Message from the Rector

Dear People of God,

Our Season of Lent has begun and I have spent time each morning in reflective prayer. The early morning is quiet and this Lenten Season I am making extra time to pray every day. I share with you several short pieces that have touched my heart. As we continue our Lenten Journey, may the Lord Jesus touch your heart. Go to the Lord Jesus just as you are—and let the Spirit of God transform, change and surprise you in ways you never expected!

Your goal is not to live long; it's to live. Jesus says the options are clear. On one side there is the voice of safety. You can build a fire in the hearth, stay inside, and stay warm and dry and safe . . . .

Or you can hear the voice of adventure—God's adventure, instead of building a fire in your hearth, build a fire in your heart. Follow God's impulses. Adopt the child. Move overseas. Teach the class. Change careers. Run for office. Make a difference. Sure it isn't safe, but what is?

He Still Moves Stones

Max Lucado

And the late Bishop Kenneth Untener wrote this in the "Little Black Lenten Book" . . . . .

Sometimes we think of the sacrifices of Lent. The word sacrifice means to "make holy." It's a gift that we give to God as we take away anything that stands between us.

When we bring things to the altar—we call them sacrifices. It is a gift to God, and it's the best gift we could ever give ourselves because it makes us holy, closer to God. It eliminates something between us and God.

And our Lenten Season can also be a time of added stress—too much to do and not enough time to accomplish all these "important" tasks. The following story may put stress and our Season of Lent into better perspective.

A lecturer, when explaining stress management to an audience, raised a glass of water and asked, "How heavy is this glass of water?" Answers called out ranged from 20g to 500g. The lecturer replied, "The absolute weight doesn't matter. It depends on how long you try to hold it. If I hold it for a minute, that's not a problem. If I hold it for an hour, I'll have an ache in my right arm. If I hold it for a day, you'll have to call an ambulance. In each case, it's the same weight, but the longer I hold it, the heavier it becomes." He continued "And that's the way it is with stress management. If we carry our burdens all the time, sooner or later, as the burden becomes increasingly heavy, we won't be able to carry on.

"As with the glass of water, you have to put it down for a while and rest before holding it again. When we're refreshed, we can carry on with the burden. So, before you return home tonight, put the burden of work down. Don't carry it home. You can pick it up tomorrow. Whatever burdens you're carrying now, let them down for a moment if you can. Relax; pick them up later after you've rested. Life is short. Enjoy it! Hand your problems over to the Lord!

Lent is a time of repentance and change. It is also a time to let go of life's burdens and stress and invite the Lord Jesus to carry the load. It is never too late to change, but we have to know what to look for with the help and grace of God. By the way, when you go to bed tonight turn all your worries over to God. God will be up all night anyway!

In a Lenten reflective mood,

Fr. Greg

Stewardship

Pray Often

On this First Sunday of Lent, it seems appropriate that all the readings reflect in some way on the issue of temptation. We are familiar with perhaps the most common prayer, the Our Father, in which we ask God to “lead us not into temptation.”

In the Catechism of the Catholic Church, it is interesting to note that #2846 tells us “It is difficult to translate the Greek verb used for ‘lead us’ into a single English word. The original Greek word means both ‘do not allow us to enter into temptation’ and ‘do not let us yield to temptation.’ Sins come from consenting to temptation.”

For our Lenten missions, the issue of “temptation” would seem to have numerous facets which should influence us. Clearly we need to pray, and often, for God’s help as we try to avoid sin, and attempt to change our lives during this time. Also, we must consider the importance of recognizing and confessing our sins in the Sacrament of Reconciliation. These should be part of our Lenten plans; living lives of stewardship might help us continue these efforts beyond Lent and throughout our lives.

Archbishop Fulton Sheen, the late and great Catholic Evangelist and television personality, devoted entire programs to temptation. On one, as he considered Lent a time to seek truth as an endeavor to resist temptation, he said, “It is easy to find truth; it is hard to face it; and harder still to follow it.”
