SUICIDE AND DESPAIR

May 14, 2018

For centuries, suicide was considered as an act of despair and despair itself was seen as the most grievous sin of all. In many religious circles, despair was seen as the most sinful of all acts and ultimately unforgivable.

Sadly, a strong residue of that remains, suicide is still seen by many as an act of despair, an affront to God and to life itself, an unforgivable relinquishing of hope. Many church people still see suicide as an act of despair and as the unforgivable sin against the Holy Spirit. But this is a misunderstanding. Suicide is not an act of despair and is not an act which cannot be forgiven. That suicide is an act of despair is not what the Christian Churches, and certainly not the Roman Catholic Church, believe or teach.

My purpose here is not to disparage what our churches teach about either suicide or despair, but rather to highlight with more accuracy what they do teach. The same holds true for people who still believe that suicide is an act of despair and an unforgivable sin. I am not disparaging their belief but trying rather to free them from a false fear (based on a misunderstanding) which surely must cause them grief and anxiety vis-à-vis loved ones who have died by suicide.

Suicide is not despair. Dictionaries define despair as the complete lack or absence of hope. But that's not what happens in most suicides. What does happen?

The person who is taking his or her own life is not intending that act as an insult or affront to God or to life (for that would be an act of strength and suicide is generally the antithesis of that). What happens in most suicides is the polar opposite. The suicide is the result of a mammoth defeat.

There's a powerful scene in the musical adaption of Victor Hugo's, Les Miserables. A young woman, Fantine, lies dying. She tells of once being youthful and full of hopeful dreams; but now worn-down by a lifetime of poverty, crushed by a broken heart, and overcome by physical illness, she is defeated and has to submit to the tearful fact that "there are storms we cannot weather".

She's right, and anyone who does not accept that truth will one day come to a painful and bitter understanding of it. There are things in this life that will crush us, and surrender isn't an act of despair and indeed isn't a free act at all. It's a humbling, sad defeat.

And that's the case with most people who die from suicide. For reasons ranging from mental illness to an infinite variety of overpowering storms that can break a person, there's sometimes a point in people's lives where they are overpowered, defeated, and unable to continue to will their own living – parallel to one who dies as a victim of a drought, hurricane, cancer, heart disease, diabetes, or Alzheimer's. There's no sin in being overpowered by a deadly storm. We can be overpowered, and some people are, but that's not despair (which can only be willful and an act of strength).

To begin with, we don't understand mental illness, which can be just as a real and just as death-producing as any physical illness. We don't blame someone for dying from cancer, a stroke, or a physical accident, but we invariably cast moral shadows on someone who dies as a result of various mental illnesses which play a deadly role in many suicides. Happily, God is still in charge and our flawed understanding, while generally permanently tainting the way someone is remembered in this world, doesn't in effect salvation on the other side.

Beyond mental illness we can be defeated in life by many other things. Tragedy, heartbreaking loss, unrequited obsession, and crippling shame can at times break a heart, crush a will, kill a spirit, and bring death to a body. And our judgment on this should reflect our understanding of God: What all-loving, merciful God would condemn someone because he or she, like Victor Hugo's, Fantine, could not weather the storm? Does God side with our own narrow notions where salvation is mostly reserved for the strong? Not if Jesus is to be believed.

Notice when Jesus points out sin he doesn't point to where we are weak and defeated; rather he points to where we are strong, arrogant, indifferent, and judgmental. Search the Gospels and ask this question: On whom is Jesus hardest? The answer is clear: Jesus is hardest on those who are strong, judgmental, and have no feeling for those who are enduring the storm. Notice what he says about the rich man who ignores the poor man at his doorstep, what he says about the priest and scribe who ignore the man beaten in a ditch, and how critical he is of the scribes and Pharisees who are quick to define who falls under God's judgment and who doesn't.

Only a faulty understanding of God can underwrite the unfortunate notion that being crushed in life constitutes despair.

LECTORS

Proclaimers of the Word of God

The Lector is a proclaimer of the Word of God, and also a minister of hospitality by extending a welcome as a commentator to those gathered for worship. Our goal at Holy Name Cathedral is that hearing the Word of God proclaimed by our Lectors will open wide the doors to Christ for the faithful because of the love of scripture that stems from their ministry.

To become a Lector you need to be a Catholic in good standing having received the Sacraments of Initiation (Baptism, Eucharist and Confirmation), be at least age 16 or older, be a parishioner and have a desire to share your faith and an encounter with Christ through the words of scripture.

Contact Barbara Ramberg, Lector Coordinator, at barbararamberg@gmail.com or Father Marek Smolka, Director of Liturgy, mamolka@holynanacathedral.org

The next Lector training will take place on Sunday, August 12, 19, 26 at 3:30 PM

MINISTERS OF HOSPITALITY

Greet all visitors and parishioners so that all feel welcomed in God's house. Those who desire to pursue the Holy Name Cathedral Ministry of Hospitality should be persons who, by their very nature, are friendly, caring and giving. They should be comfortable with meeting and welcoming others.

Contact: Michelle Peltier - Director of Liturgical Services & Special Events - mpeltier@holynanacathedral.org

BACK-TO-SCHOOL BLESSING

All students from pre-school to graduate school and teachers are invited to attend any of our Cathedral Liturgies on August 4th and 5th.

At the end of Mass a special blessing will be given as you prepare to return to school for a new academic year.

WYD SYMBOLS - August 20

World Youth Days are accompanied by two symbols – a Holy Year Cross and an Icon of Our Lady Salus Populi Romani (Protectress of the Roman People). During World Youth Day celebrations, these symbols are present on site for the Main Events. In preparation for the Days, the symbols make a pilgrimage in the country which organizes the meeting. For the next generation of young people, these Symbols indicate the true "purpose" of World Youth Day: getting to know Jesus deeper and deeper in the Mystery of Redemption and abandonment of their lives to the protection of Our Lady.

Join us for the reception and veneration of the World Youth Day Icon and the World Youth Day Cross here in the Archdiocese of Chicago on August 20, 2018.

Several different events and services that will be offered that day, include a Mass, at 12:10 p.m. Mass followed by an outdoor luncheon, at 5:15 p.m. Mass, and a 7 p.m. evening prayer service led by Bishop Frank Caggiano, the Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport and USCCB World Youth Day Episcopal Liaison.

Building Our Home Together

The Parish Pastoral Council (PPC) is the lay advisory body to the Rector of Holy Name Cathedral. The members of the PPC represent the needs, hopes, and desires of the entire Parish. The PPC works with the Rector to encourage full participation and engagement of all parishioners in the mission of Holy Name Cathedral and the Universal Church. Each of the many lay organizations of Holy Name Cathedral is supported by the PPC, from annual Discernment to opportunities to promote membership and participation in their programs.

This year, the PPC sponsored the inaugural Day of Service, a day of spiritual reflections, fun, and fellowship while caring for our neighbors. Over 80 of our parishioners gathered for morning reflections with Fr. Greg and Fr. John. Then they broke into teams to go to locations throughout Chicago to serve at the Catholic Charities Family Stabilization Services & Senior Food Nutrition Warehouse, Academy of St. Benedict the African, Arts for Living Family Fair, and Our Lady of Tepeyac Child Development Center. Afterward, the teams returned to the Cathedral for a special volunteer Mass led by Fr. Bill, followed by a relaxing late afternoon food and fellowship on the Courtyard.

As Fr. Greg reflected, "Wow! What a beautiful day when all of you gathered for our parish's inaugural Day of Service. With over 80 people giving their time and talents, we made a real impact on our community. How great to start the morning with you in our beautiful Courtyard with the perfect summer day's weather

The joy expressed by so many of you in seeing new faces and meeting other parishioners for the first time is just how I felt as your Rector. The many pictures sent in throughout the day captured your commitment to serve (with lots of fun moments!). And sharing Christ with those in need and during those quieter moments of the day with each other is what we hope to do every day for our Faith Community.

A special thank you to our Team Captains - Kristina Everett (Human Concerns Commission), Ken Henriksen (Faith Formation Commission), John Manley (Young Adults Ministry), Kathy McCabe (former Parish Pastoral Council), John Silver (Parish Pastoral Council), and Dede Sokolski (Parish Life Commission) - for guiding their groups throughout the day, and also to our planning committee (Cheri McEssy, Lori Doyle and Kathy Montague). We know your time is valuable and we deeply appreciate the dedication and caring you demonstrated.

Remember this: People don't care how much you know, but they want to know how much you care. Thank you for sharing all of your time to care for our neighbors. I am sure you discovered that as much as you gave, you received so much more in return."

With profound gratitude,

Fr. Greg

Attention: Men of Holy Name Cathedral

As you may often read about our parish Women's Ministry, there has been a call to consider starting a Men's Ministry.

This past February, Wayne Messmer presented his one man play Fr. Damien, Leper Priest of Molokai. In the meet and greet that followed, Wayne mentioned his own experience of putting faith into practice when he was shot in the throat during an attempted robbery. We asked if he would come back and share more about that experience, and he has agreed!

Mark your calendar for Friday evening, September 14th, at 6:30 p.m. in the Club Room to hear and meet Mr. Messmer.

HNC Resurrection Crucifix

Perhaps the most striking feature of the Cathedral, the Resurrection Crucifix, created by artist Ivo Demetz, in 1969, is a powerful interpretation of this universal sign of Christianity. The wooden Cross depicts Christ as he is today and always - not a figure in agony, but the risen and triumphant Lord who died for our salvation.

You can own an 8 inch replica to display in your home or give as gifts. Donation is $20.00 each. Cash or checks (made payable to Holy Name Cathedral).

Crucifixes are available in the rectory office or fill out and mail the form found on our website.
